

History

The Master's program in History was designed as a way to fill a gap both academic and investigative in the center-west region of Colombia and in particular in the city of Pereira. The emphasis in the different curricular lines and investigation groups seek to meet the education demands of the different professionals in the region, and has given a character of Interdisciplinarity to this program, offering it's students the possibility of developing several research topics.

Fuente: http://educacion.utp.edu.co/maestrias/historia/en_historia

Universidad Tecnológica
de Pereira